

ScottMadden Named as One of America's Best Management Consulting Firms for the Energy and Environment Industry

Forbes Media and Statista Recognize America's Top Management Consulting Firms for Energy and Environment

ATLANTA, GA – (May 10, 2016) – Forbes Media, in partnership with Statista, an online statistics provider, has recognized ScottMadden, Inc., as one of America's Best Management Consulting Firms for Energy and Environment. This list focuses on management consultancies providing businesses across industry sectors and functional areas with the best guidance on their practice.

These companies are recognized based on rankings compiled from two online surveys. One survey included partners and project managers who were asked to recommend consultancies (excluding their own) across 15 industries and 16 functional areas. The second survey included management consultancy clients who were asked to recommend consultancies on a list falling within industries and functional areas in which they have worked with a consultancy in the last four years. This year, ScottMadden's listing included a "disproportionately high number of client recommendations," meaning the number of client recommendations was many times greater than the average of each industry or functional area.

"Needless to say, we're thrilled to be recognized as one of the country's best consulting firms for Energy and Environment," says Brad Kitchens, president and CEO at ScottMadden. "The fact that our clients were the source of this recognition makes this even more special. All thanks go to our outstanding consultants and staff."
