

ScottMadden to Review Challenges Facing Nuclear Generation at Nuclear Generator & Supplier Executive Summit

ATLANTA, GA – (July 6, 2016) – ScottMadden, Inc., one of North America’s leading energy consulting firms, will soon join top experts as a sponsor of the 22nd Annual Nuclear Generator and Supplier Executive Summit being held July 12–15 at the Snow Bird Ski & Summer Resort near Salt Lake City, UT. This event, hosted by Utilities Services Alliance, Inc. (USA), allows industry leaders to review the challenges facing the nuclear generation sector in today’s demanding environment.

“Having worked with a number of members of the USA fleet, we’ve attended this conference for several years. We’ve always found there to be a rich exchange of information between the member plants as well as between the plants and vendors,” said Jordan Gillis, director at ScottMadden. “This year, the focus of the conference is ‘Excellence, Compliance and Economic Viability – the Keys to Survival and Prosperity,’ which aligns nicely with the industry ‘Delivering the Nuclear Promise’ theme. We look forward to exploring how the work we’ve done to help companies achieve operational excellence has contributed to their continued economic viability and how we can continue to support the industry with the performance improvement and strategy work we’re known for.”
