

ScottMadden Announces the Launch of Inaugural Inspire Scholarship

ATLANTA, GA – (December 1, 2020) – ScottMadden, Inc., one of North America’s leading management consulting firms specializing in energy and shared services, has established a scholarship program to assist current undergraduate sophomores or above who identify as Black or African American and have a demonstrated track record of success in academics and their communities.

At ScottMadden, ensuring inclusive, equitable, and respectful treatment for everyone is central to who we are and is core to our values. Growing a diverse culture in which everyone is welcomed, valued, and respected has long been a strategic priority for the firm.

The ScottMadden Inspire Scholarship is renewable and open to current residents of the Atlanta, Boston, and the Raleigh-Durham-Chapel Hill metropolitan areas. Eligible majors include accounting, business administration, computer and information sciences and support services, engineering, finance, logistics, and supply chain management, and certain similar or related fields.

“We are thrilled to launch this scholarship. Our firm is committed to maintaining an inclusive environment that builds respect and trust, and we are confident that this scholarship will further our efforts and plant the seeds for the future success of the recipients,” says Brad Kitchens, president and CEO at ScottMadden.
