ATLANTA, GA – (October 1, 2015) – ScottMadden, Inc., a general management consulting firm, is pleased to announce the promotion of Patricia “Trish” Ferris to partner. Ms. Ferris has been with ScottMadden since 2004 and a director since 2010, focusing on project work in human resources.

Trish Ferris, Partner, ScottMadden, Inc.

Ms. Ferris has more than 15 years of consulting experience, specializing in a number of areas, including operations improvement and process redesign, organizational design, merger and acquisition integration, strategy development, and project management.

“We’re lucky to have Trish at the firm,” says Brad Kitchens, president and CEO of ScottMadden.

“Throughout her career with ScottMadden, Trish has been one of our most versatile consultants. Early on, she worked with our energy clients focusing on nuclear performance improvement. In the past several years, within the Corporate & Shared Services practice, she has actively supported finance and information technology projects, and now she focuses on human resources leading practices and shared services delivery. The promotion to partner for Trish is well-deserved.”

Prior to joining ScottMadden, Ms. Ferris worked in management consulting for A.T. Kearney and at The Advisory Board Company where she conducted research and analysis and wrote tactical recommendations and implementation materials for hospital-related strategic and operational issues. She holds an M.B.A. from the University of North Carolina Kenan-Flagler Business School, and received an undergraduate degree with a double major in Arabic language and international relations from Georgetown University.
