

ScottMadden to Present at the AGA/EEI Advanced Public Utility Accounting Course

ATLANTA, GA – (August 18, 2015) – ScottMadden, Inc., one of North America’s leading energy consulting firms, is pleased to present at the Advanced Public Utility Accounting Course taking place Monday, August 24–Thursday, August 27 at the Omni Shoreham Hotel in Washington, DC. The course, offered by the American Gas Association (AGA) and the Edison Electric Institute (EEI), will focus on advanced industry accounting topics.

Rick Starkweather, partner and regulatory practice leader at ScottMadden, will present “Rate Case Preparation and Management.” This session will review the key steps involved in preparing and managing rate cases to help conference participants replenish and update their rate case skill set.

“Utility accounting is becoming more complex and more important to utility success. Our session will provide an overview of leading practices,” said Mr. Starkweather. “Utilities are continuing to experience an erosion of their internal rate case knowledge through retirements and employee reassignments and turnover. Keeping these leading practices in mind will allow utilities to better plan and execute their rate case filings and achieve improved regulatory outcomes.”

About ScottMadden’s Energy Practice

We know energy from the ground up. Since 1983, we have been energy consultants. We have served more than 300 clients, including 20 of the top 20 energy utilities. We have performed more than 2,400 projects across every energy utility business unit and every function. We have helped our clients develop strategies, improve operations, reorganize companies, and implement initiatives. Our broad and deep energy utility expertise is not theoretical—it is experience based.
